

ADAMSON UNIVERSITY LIBRARY WEBLINKS

COMPUTER ENGINEERING

JUNE 2018

ADPOST.COM

<http://www.adpost.com/ph/computers/>

[Retrieved May 23, 2018]

This site provides contacts about where to buy Philippines Used Computer Hardware Pda, and other computer paraphernalia.

ANADTECH

<http://www.anandtech.com/>

[Retrieved June 18, 2018]

AnandTech is the leading IT source for hardware analysis and industry news. Today AnandTech serves the needs of readers looking for reviews on PC components, smartphones, tablets, pre-built desktops, notebooks, Macs, and enterprise/cloud computing technologies. It is one of the largest websites doing all of these things.

COMPUTER HOPE

<http://www.computerhope.com/>

[Retrieved May 29, 2018]

Computer Hope is a collection of services that allows users to access its database of free computer-related information. Good for end-users and includes, computer support facilities for answering computer-related questions.

COMPINFO: THE COMPUTER INFORMATION CENTER

<http://www.compinfo-center.com/>

[Retrieved May 16, 2018]

Hardware, software, computers and communications are featured on these pages. The Computer Information Center is a one-stop independent information service focused on the needs of users and buyers of computer and communications products and technology. Here you can find the best sources of information you need on computer and communications industries, the top one-stop reference resource for corporate IT, computer software, computers and communications.

COMPUTER DESKTOP ENCYCLOPEDIA

<http://amser.org/index.php?P=AMSER--ResourceFrame&resourceId=95>

[Retrieved June 5, 2018]

This site provides "the very definition of a concise, user-friendly, up-to-date technical dictionary." Technology terms are not only updated for changes, but for readability. Users love reading about computer terminology in this reference and praise its clarity.

THE COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY DOCUMENTATION PROJECT

<http://www.comptechdoc.org/>

[Retrieved May 31, 2018]

This site contains computer documentation and information in various technical areas including markup and web languages, operating systems, hardware, programming, and networking. This documentation is suited for beginners and experts alike. Provides new Security Policies that should be implemented in many organizations and provides examples of some security policies.

COMPUTERWORLD: NEWS, EDUCATION & HEADLINES

<http://www.computerworld.com/>

[Retrieved May 24, 2018]

Provides current news stories and feature articles about computer technology, geared towards the IT manager. Computerworld also offers guidance to IT managers tasked with optimizing client systems—and helps businesses revolutionize the customer and employee experience with new collaboration platforms. Current news stories and feature articles about computer technology, geared towards the IT manager.

COMPUTING.NET : THE PREMIER TECH SUPPORT SITE

<http://www.computing.net/>

[Retrieved May 14, 2018]

Computing.Net is one of the biggest and oldest technical support web sites. It can help almost anyone obtain technical support for their computing needs. Technical support for the computer industry, providing forums for discussing Windows, Macintosh, Unix, and OS/2 operating systems, a search mechanism for finding software for different specifications, and a help section to assist completion of common tasks and problem solving.

CONNECTED: AN INTERNET ENCYCLOPEDIA

<http://www.freesoft.org/CIE/>

[Retrieved June 14, 2018]

“A readable and useful reference to the technical operation of the Internet.” Browse over 100 Internet engineering essays and read RFCs. A full text search is also available.

DOWNLOAD SHAREWARE

<http://www.downloadshareware.com/>

[Retrieved May 29, 2018]

This site compiles a list of free software downloads available on the Internet. Categories include programs, mobiles, drivers and games.

DOWNLOAD.COM

http://www.download.com/2000-2001_4-0.html

[Retrieved May 9, 2018]

Download.com is the place where people go to discover free-to-try legal downloads. Featuring rated reviews, Download.com is the trusted, safe, and secure resource for software, mobile applications, and game downloads. With everything from PC starter kits to games, security patches, screensavers, and mobile apps, you can play with more than 150,000 free downloads. Features such as most popular lists, editorial reviews, blogs, and how-to articles will help you find the software that is right for you.

FILEINFO.NET

<http://www.fileinfo.net/>

[Retrieved June 6, 2018]

FileInfo.net is a resource that allows a user to search their database for different files that one might find on their computer. The website also identifies what program is needed to open the different types of files. This website works for both Macs and PCs. FileInfo contains a searchable database of over 10,000 file extensions with detailed information about the associated file types. You can look up information about unknown file types and find programs that open the files.

FREEDOM MACHINES

<http://www.freedommachines.com/index.html>

[Retrieved May 4, 2018]

Freedom Machines is an unprecedented look at disability in the age of technology, presenting intimate stories of people ages 8-93, whose talents and independence are being unleashed by access to modern, enabling technologies. Freedom Machines reveals the power of technology to change lives.

GLOSSARY OF COMPUTER AND INTERNET TERMS

<http://www.sharpened.net/glossary/>

[Retrieved June 7, 2018]

An alphabetic dictionary of computer terms with easy-to-understand definitions.

INFORMATIONWEEK: CONNECTING THE BUSINESS TECHNOLOGY COMMUNITY

<https://www.informationweek.com/about-us/d/d-id/705542>

[Retrieved May 23, 2018]

InformationWeek provides a trusted environment for IT decision-makers to learn from experienced journalists, subject matter experts, and their peers to explore new ideas, find answers to their business technology questions, and solve their most pressing problems. As the world's most trusted business technology resource, InformationWeek offers independent insight and advice to help today's IT leaders navigate the fast-changing technology landscape and identify the best strategies and tools to drive their organizations forward.

INTERNET 101: BEGINNER'S HANDBOOK

<https://www.lifewire.com/internet-101-beginners-quick-reference-guide-2483357>

[Retrieved June 15, 2018]

This site provides a collection of tutorials and guiding advice for new Internet users. A cheat sheet for online beginners.

THE INTERNET SOCIETY

<http://www.internetsociety.org/>

[Retrieved June 8, 2018]

The ISOC works to promote the future growth of the internet. It plays a leadership role in setting internet standards and spearheading internet-related educational initiatives throughout the world. It also provides an institutional home for and financial support for the Internet Standards process.

JAN'S ILLUSTRATED COMPUTER LITERACY 101

<https://www.jegsworks.com/lessons/>

[Retrieved June 15, 2018]

This site contains a series of free-to-use-online lessons on computer topics, starting with the basics of what a computer is and what it does (and all those tech words that your nerdy friends throw around). Working through the entire set would give you the same skills and knowledge as a set of college courses.

HCI BIBLIOGRAPHY: HUMAN-COMPUTER INTERACTION RESOURCES

<http://www.hcibib.org/>

[Retrieved May 18, 2018]

Human-Computer Interaction (HCI) is a discipline concerned with the design, evaluation and implementation of interactive computing systems for human use and with the study of major phenomena surrounding them. Searchable database, providing a bibliography of resources relating to HCI including books, reports, journal articles, conference proceedings and online publications.

HOBBS' INTERNET TIMELINE 23

<https://www.zakon.org/robert/internet/timeline/>

[Retrieved May 23, 2018]

An Internet chronology highlighting some of the key events which helped shape the Internet as we know it today.

INFORMATIONWEEK: CONNECTING THE BUSINESS TECHNOLOGY COMMUNITY

<https://www.informationweek.com/about-us/d/d-id/705542>

[Retrieved May 23, 2018]

InformationWeek provides a trusted environment for IT decision-makers to learn from experienced journalists, subject matter experts, and their peers to explore new ideas, find answers to their business technology questions, and solve their most pressing problems. As the world's most trusted business technology resource, InformationWeek offers independent insight and advice to help today's IT leaders navigate the fast-changing technology landscape and identify the best strategies and tools to drive their organizations forward.

INTERNET 101: BEGINNER'S HANDBOOK

<https://www.lifewire.com/internet-101-beginners-quick-reference-guide-2483357>

[Retrieved June 15, 2018]

This site provides a collection of tutorials and guiding advice for new Internet users. A cheat sheet for online beginners.

THE INTERNET SOCIETY

<http://www.internetsociety.org/>

[Retrieved June 8, 2018]

The ISOC works to promote the future growth of the internet. It plays a leadership role in setting internet standards and spearheading internet-related educational initiatives throughout the world. It also provides an institutional home for and financial support for the Internet Standards process.

JAN'S ILLUSTRATED COMPUTER LITERACY 101

<https://www.jegsworks.com/lessons/>

[Retrieved June 15, 2018]

This site contains a series of free-to-use-online lessons on computer topics, starting with the basics of what a computer is and what it does (and all those tech words that your friends throw around). Working through the entire set would give you the same skills and knowledge as a set of college courses.

JARGON FILE RESOURCES

<http://www.catb.org/jargon/>

[Retrieved June 18, 2018]

This page indexes all the WWW resources associated with the Jargon File and its print version, and its print version, The New Hacker's Dictionary. It is as official as anything associated with the Jargon File gets.

KITCHEN LIVING COMPUTERS

<http://www.kitchentablecomputers.com/index.php>

[Retrieved June 14, 2018]

This site is dedicated to the many thousands of ordinary people who decide to build their own personal computers each year -- very often, on their kitchen tables. It presents an illustrated, step-by-step guide to building a computer from scratch, in simple language, to help make your do-it-yourself computer-building project as enjoyable, educational, and rewarding as it can be.

LIFEWIRE

<https://www.lifewire.com/about-us>

[Retrieved June 15, 2018]

Lifewire helps you get the most out of your tech, so you can get the most out of your life. The site teaches you how to best use your screens and gadgets, have fun with technology, fix what is not working. Provides practical advice to help you better with technology.

THE LIVINGINTERNET.COM

<http://www.livinginternet.com/>

[Retrieved May 29, 2018]

General guide to the Internet includes sections covering the history of the Web, email, Usenet and other topics. This site provides a free, comprehensive reference about the Internet and its main technologies, including the human history. It contains about 500 pages, 250 quotations from source documents, thousands of inter-site links, and hundreds of external links.

MAGPORTAL.COM: MAGAZINE ARTICLES ON INTERNET

<http://www.magportal.com/c/net/>

[Retrieved June 5, 2018]

A searchable directory of magazine articles on the state and evolution of the Internet that is available online. Topics covered include: Broadband; E-Business; Internet Service Providers; Link Recommendations; Marketing; Portals, Communities & Entertainment; Services; Social Issues; Statistics & Projections; Website Design & Management. Updated every few days. Last update: January 19, 2016

MICROSOFT DEVELOPER NETWORK

<http://msdn.microsoft.com/en-au/default.aspx>

[Retrieved June 14, 2018]

“Provide articles, whitepapers, interviews, and sample code for software developers using Microsoft products.”

NETIQUETTE HOME PAGE

<http://www.albion.com/netiquette/>

[Retrieved June 15, 2018]

"Netiquette" is network etiquette, the do's and don'ts of online communication. Netiquette covers both common courtesy online and the informal "rules of the road" of cyberspace. This page provides links to both summary and detail information about Netiquette for your browsing pleasure.

NEWEGG.COM

<http://www.newegg.com/>

[Retrieved June 7, 2018]

"Newegg is an online e-commerce company offering more than 25,000 computer hardware and software, consumer electronics and communications products in stock at competitive prices and ready to ship at lightning-speed."

OMICS INTERNATIONAL

<https://www.omicsonline.org/>

[Retrieved May 25, 2018]

OMICS International is an amalgamation of Open Access Publications and worldwide international science conferences and events. Established in the year 2007 with the sole aim of making the information on Sciences and technology "Open Access", OMICS International publishes scholarly journals in all aspects of Science, Engineering, Management and Technology journals

PC GUIDE

<http://www.pcguides.com/>

[Retrieved May 8, 2018]

The author wanted to build a site that would focus on the PC user rather than the PC designer. His goal is to provide you with the answers to your computing questions. The site includes: High-level descriptions of how a computer works; Comprehensive technical information on the functioning of every part of a modern PC; Detailed information on system care, protecting your system from viruses, and backups; Both general and specific information on troubleshooting and repairing PCs; System optimization information that can help you easily get more from your existing machine.

SEARCHTECHTARGET.COM

<http://www.aboutus.com/SearchTechTarget.com>

[Retrieved June 6, 2018]

One of the most comprehensive resources on the net devoted to the use and programming of database and database-to-web connectivity software, including ASP, CGI-PERL, SQL, ColdFusion, Oracle, and hundreds more. It includes links to tips, tutorials, reviews, mailing lists, consultants, FAQs, and news items. Includes glossary of computer and technology terms.

SECURELIST

<https://securelist.com/>

[Retrieved June 18, 2018]

Daily news on computer-virus related topics. Includes encyclopedia of all known computer viruses arranged by virus families.

SLASHDOT: NEWS FOR NERDS, STUFF THAT MATTERS

<https://slashdot.org/>

[Retrieved June 19, 2018]

Slashdot features news and information about computers, operating systems, and programs for people who are passionate about computer technology. It also includes a discussion board to post computer-related questions and to provide a forum on a wide variety of topics.

SYSTEMS CONCEPTS

<http://www.system-concepts.com/>

[Retrieved May 30, 2018]

Links to resources in ergonomics, health and safety, human factors and the human computer interaction. Also permits access to a HCI standards database.

TECH TUTORIALS

<http://www.techtutorials.net/>

[Retrieved May 29, 2018]

TechTutorials offers a directory containing thousands of free tutorials for IT professionals, hobbyists, and home users. Our goal is to help you solve your computer problems and learn new technologies using the many existing free tutorials available on the internet. The site also contains discussion forums, a free job search, free tech magazine subscriptions, white papers, and other technical reference materials. Register for a free account and you can create a collection of your favorite tutorials, rate tutorials, and access other special features.

TIMELINE OF COMPUTER HISTORY

<http://www.computerhistory.org/timeline/computers/>

[Retrieved June 19, 2018]

Summarizes important events in the development of computers from 1937 to 2015.

VMYTHS : TRUTH ABOUT COMPUTER HYSTERIA

<http://vmyths.com/>

[Retrieved June 6, 2018]

“Vmyths traces its roots to a "Computer Virus Myths treatise" first published in 1988. It evolved into the critically acclaimed "Computer Virus Myths home page" in 1995, then it moved to Vmyths.com in 2000. Its name has changed over the years, but Vmyths remains true to its original goal: the eradication of computer security hysteria.

WEBOPEDIA

<http://www.webopedia.com/>

[Retrieved June 19, 2018]

Webopedia is an online tech dictionary for IT professionals, educators and students. We provide definitions to words, phrases and abbreviations related to computing and information technology. The site provides easy-to-understand definitions, avoiding the use of heavy jargon when possible so that the site is accessible to users with a wide range of computer knowledge. Enter a search term or browse through the categories, and sail the Web. There is also a glossary of terms with a particular term being highlighted each day.

WIRED NEWS

<http://www.wired.com/>

[Retrieved June 22, 2018]

This site provides computer and technology news in business, entertainment, medicine, politics, and culture.
Updated daily.